

cities
matter

CITY HALL

Molly
meets the Street
Supervisor

Learn more about
why cities matter at:
www.citiesmatter.org

This is Molly. She's 5 years old.

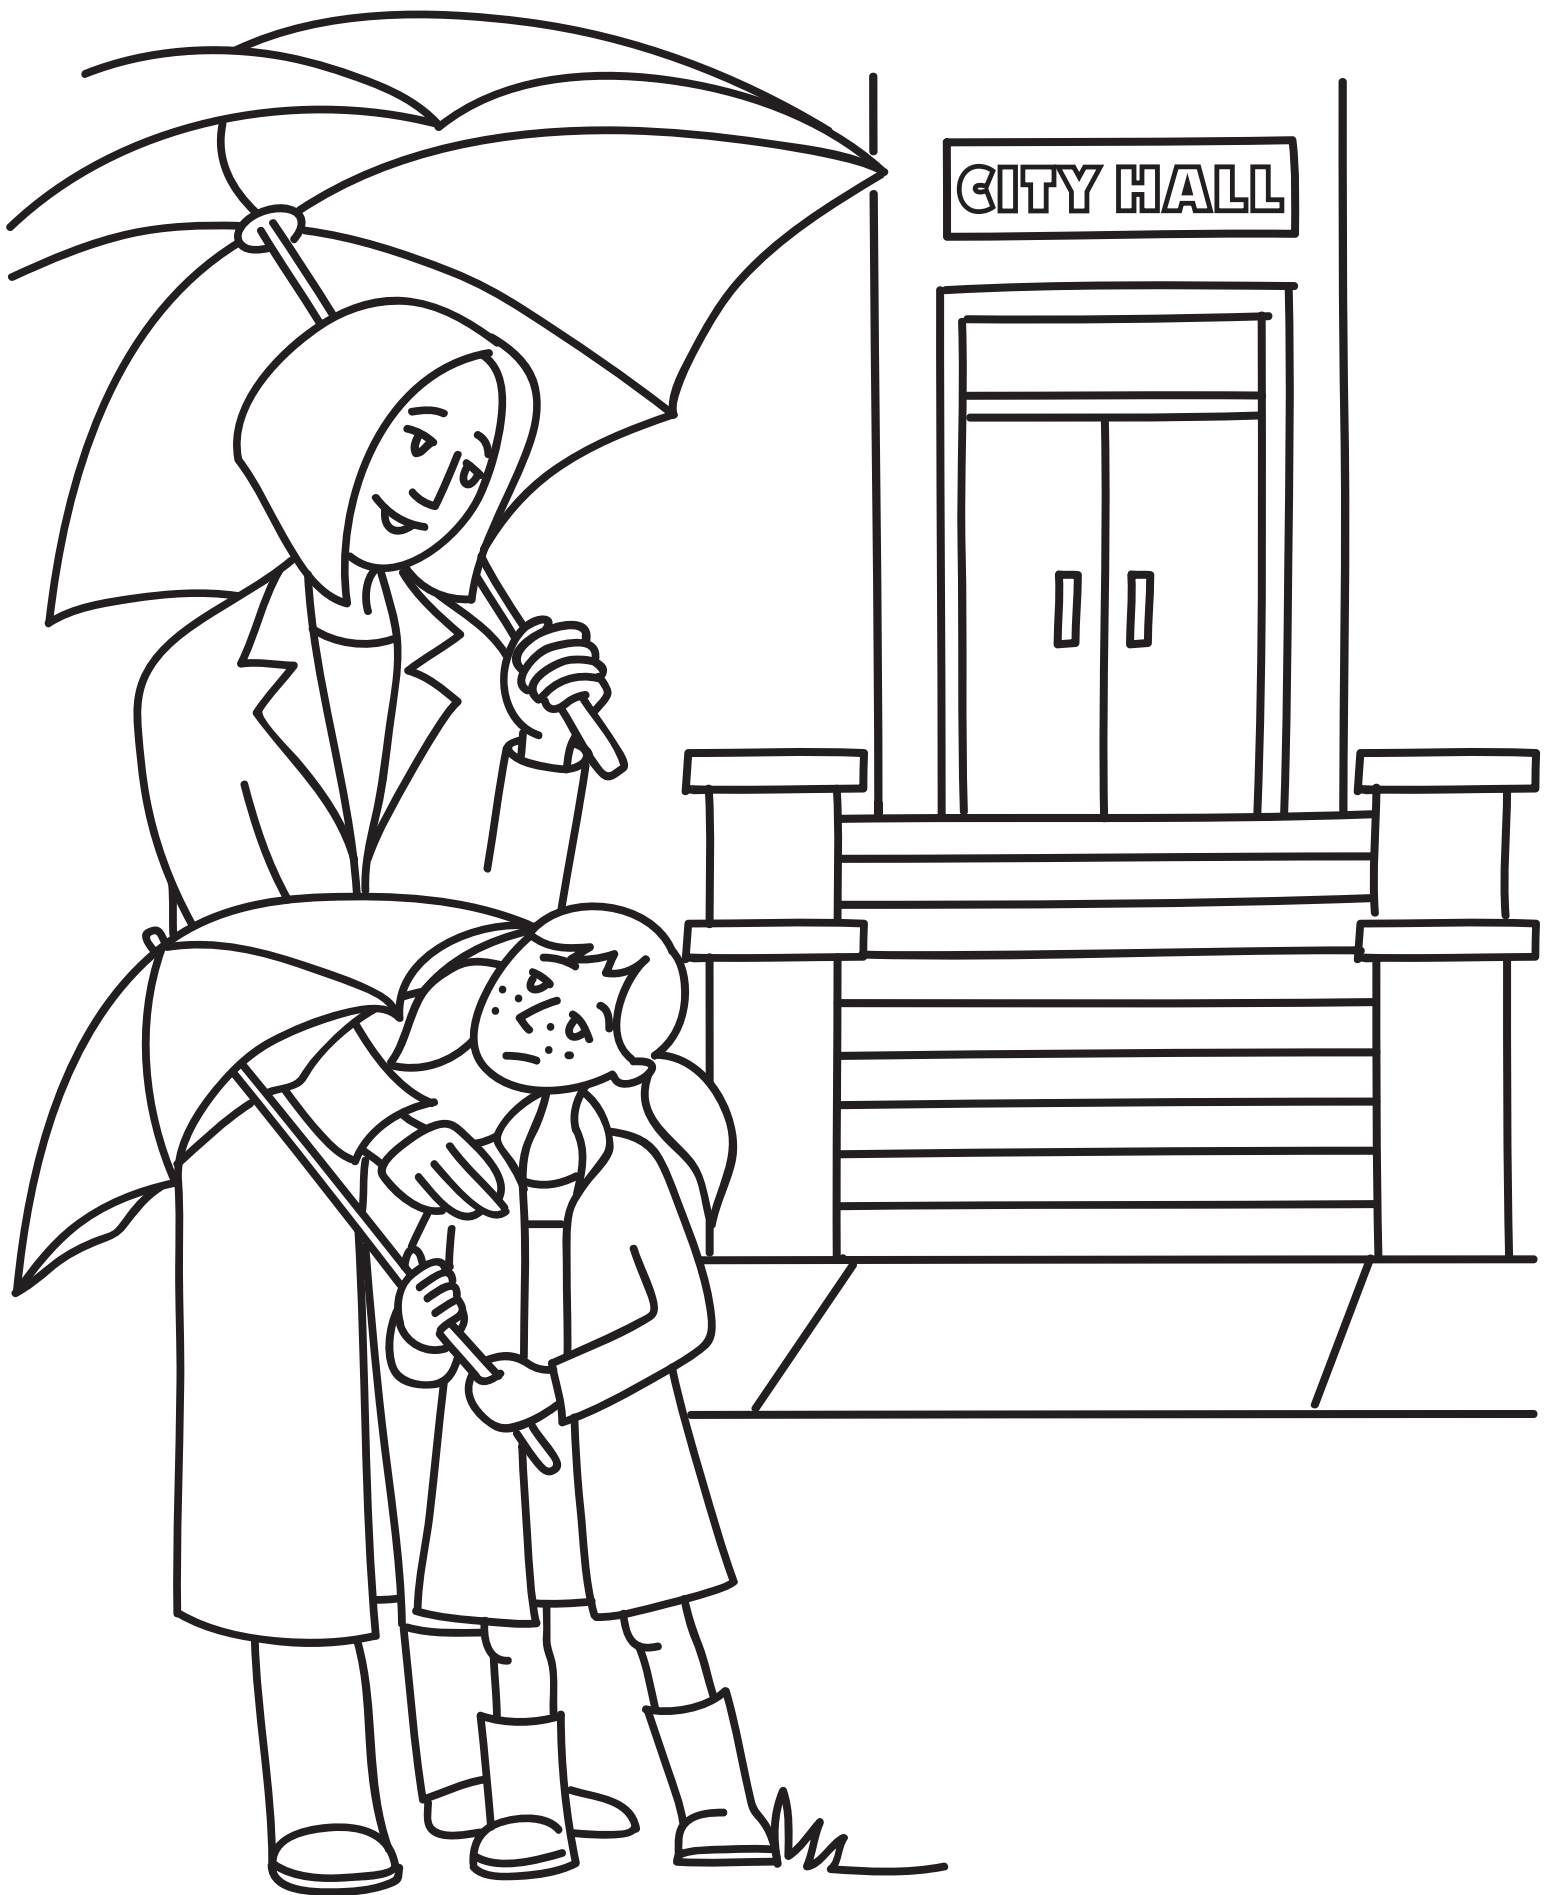

Molly and Mommy are taking a walk after a big rainstorm.
Molly gets to wear her big, yellow rubber boots!

Splash! "Be careful!" Mommy says, "Don't get all wet!"

Molly sees something wrong with the sidewalk.
There is a big hole where the cement should be.

"Oh no!" Mommy says, "The rain must have done that. We have to tell City Hall".

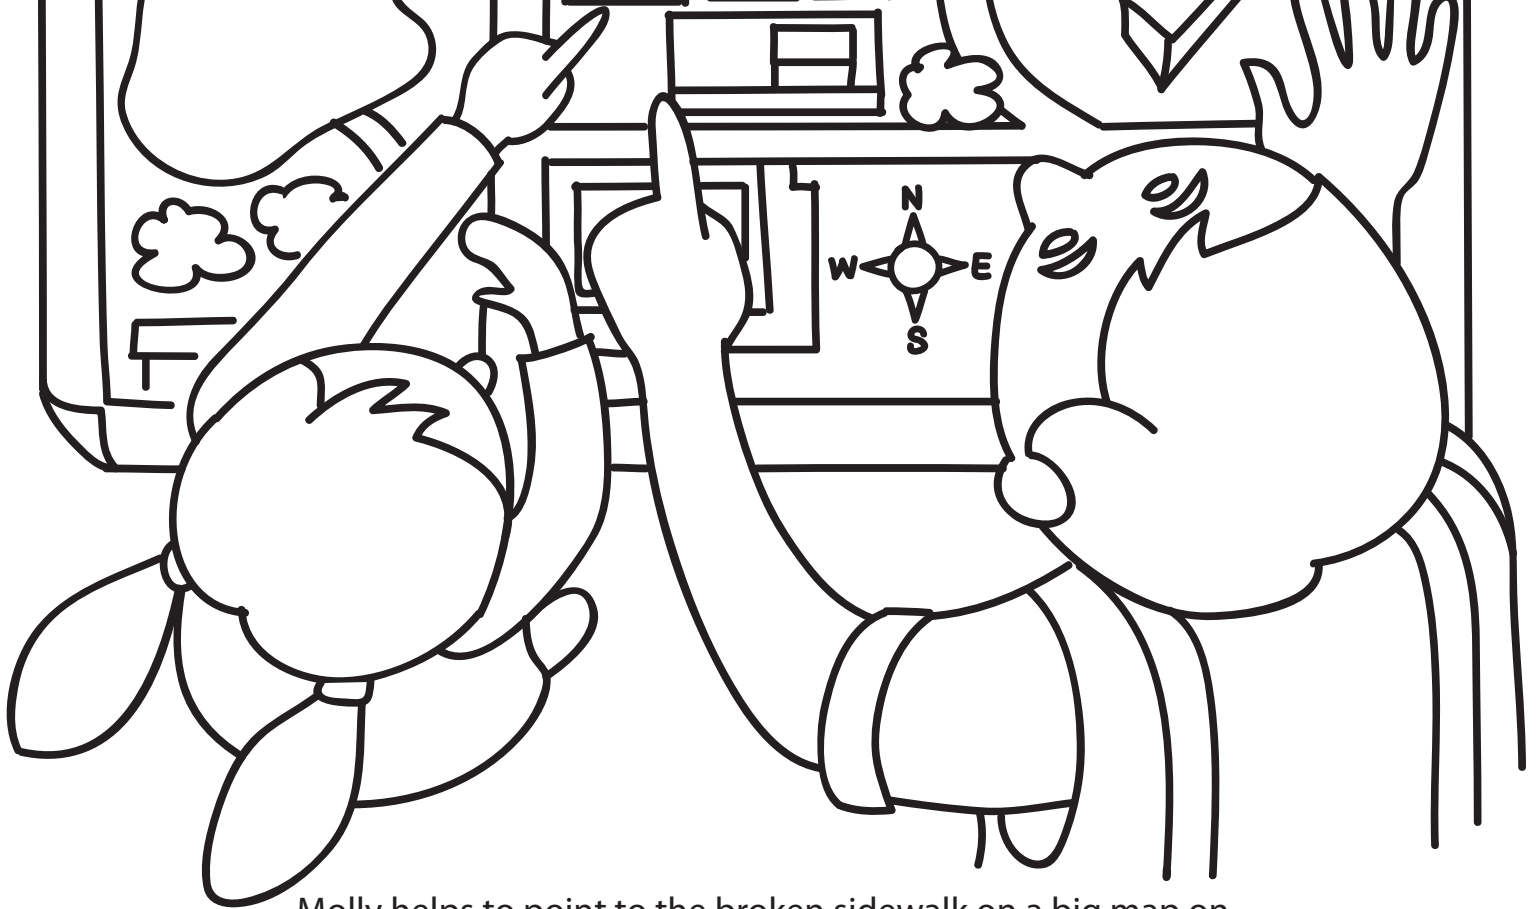

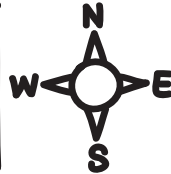

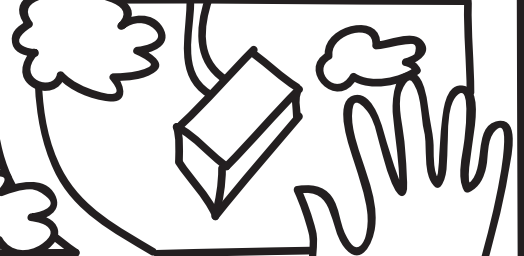

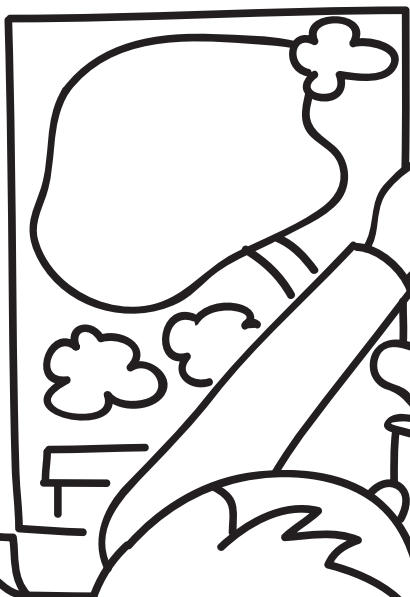

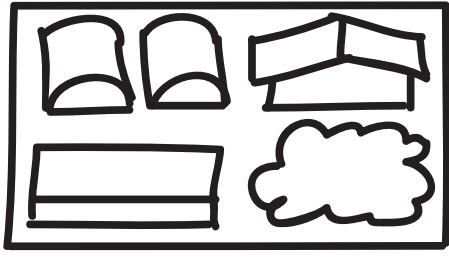

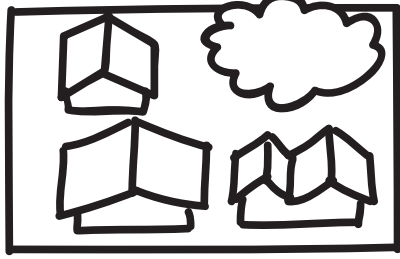

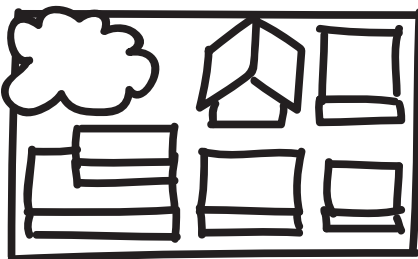

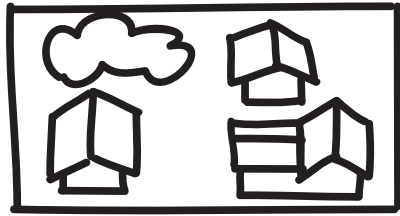

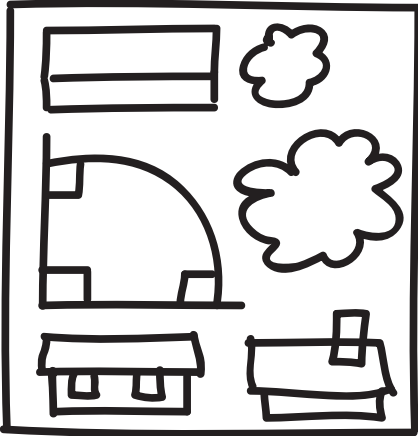

At City Hall, Molly and Mommy find the Street Supervisor.
Mr. Cadman wears a bright yellow safety vest, the same color as Molly's boots.

"Mr. Cadman works for City Hall," Mommy explains. "His job is to keep the city streets safe and clean. He will fix the sidewalk."

CITY MAP

Molly helps to point to the broken sidewalk on a big map on Mr. Cadman's desk. There are lots and lots of streets on Mr. Cadman's map.

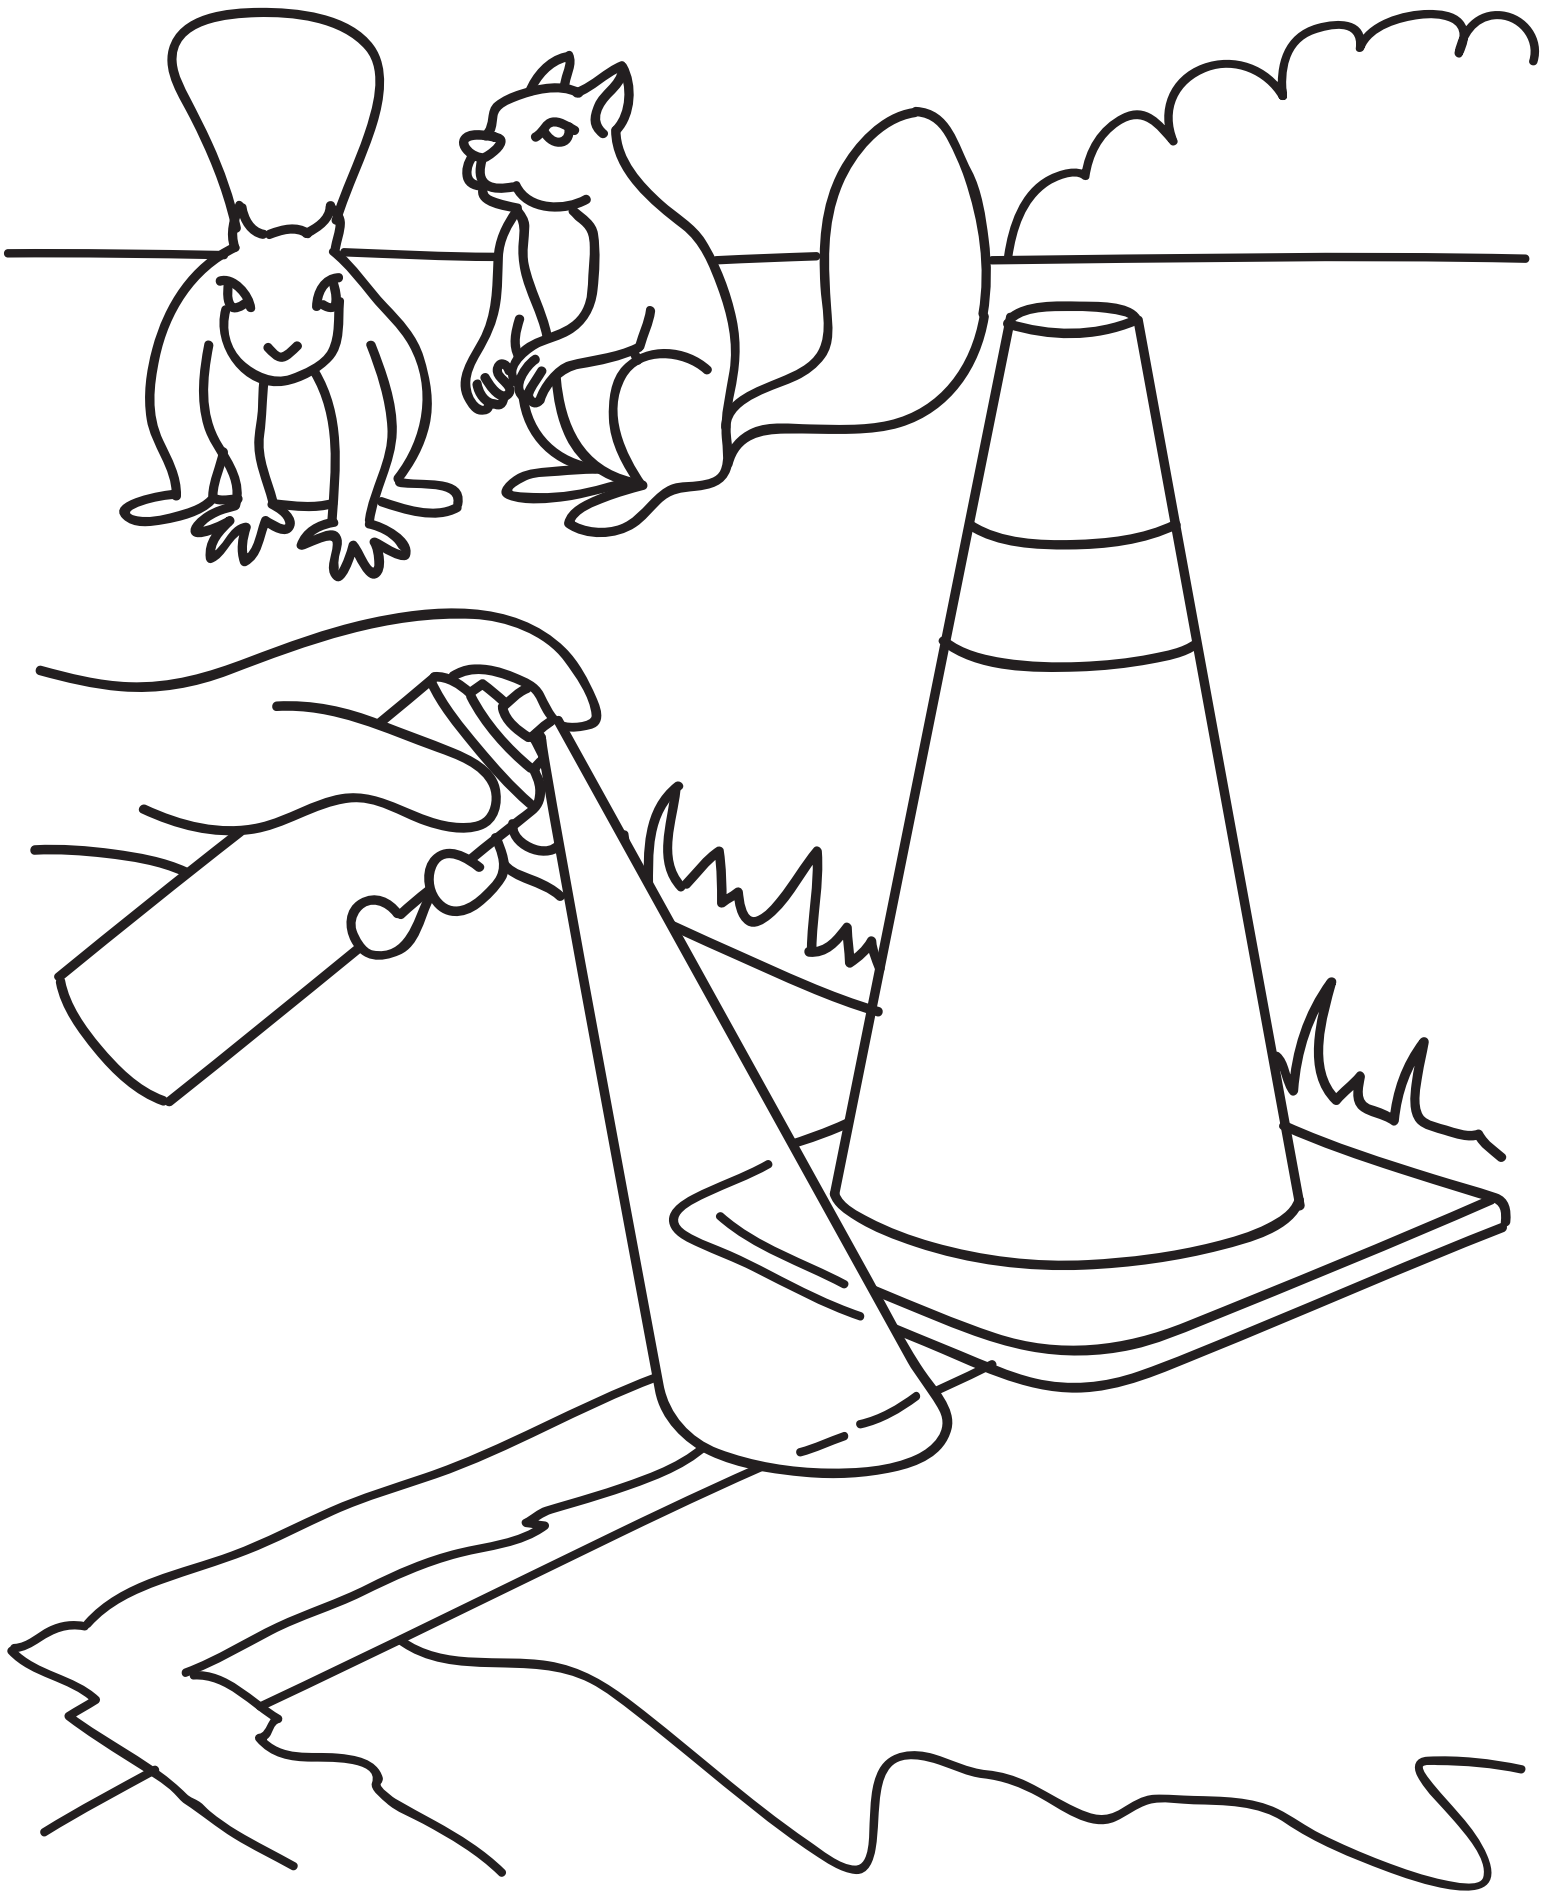

"That's right!" Mr. Cadman agrees, "Our city has lots and lots of streets. It's wonderful when someone like you helps me find a broken spot!"

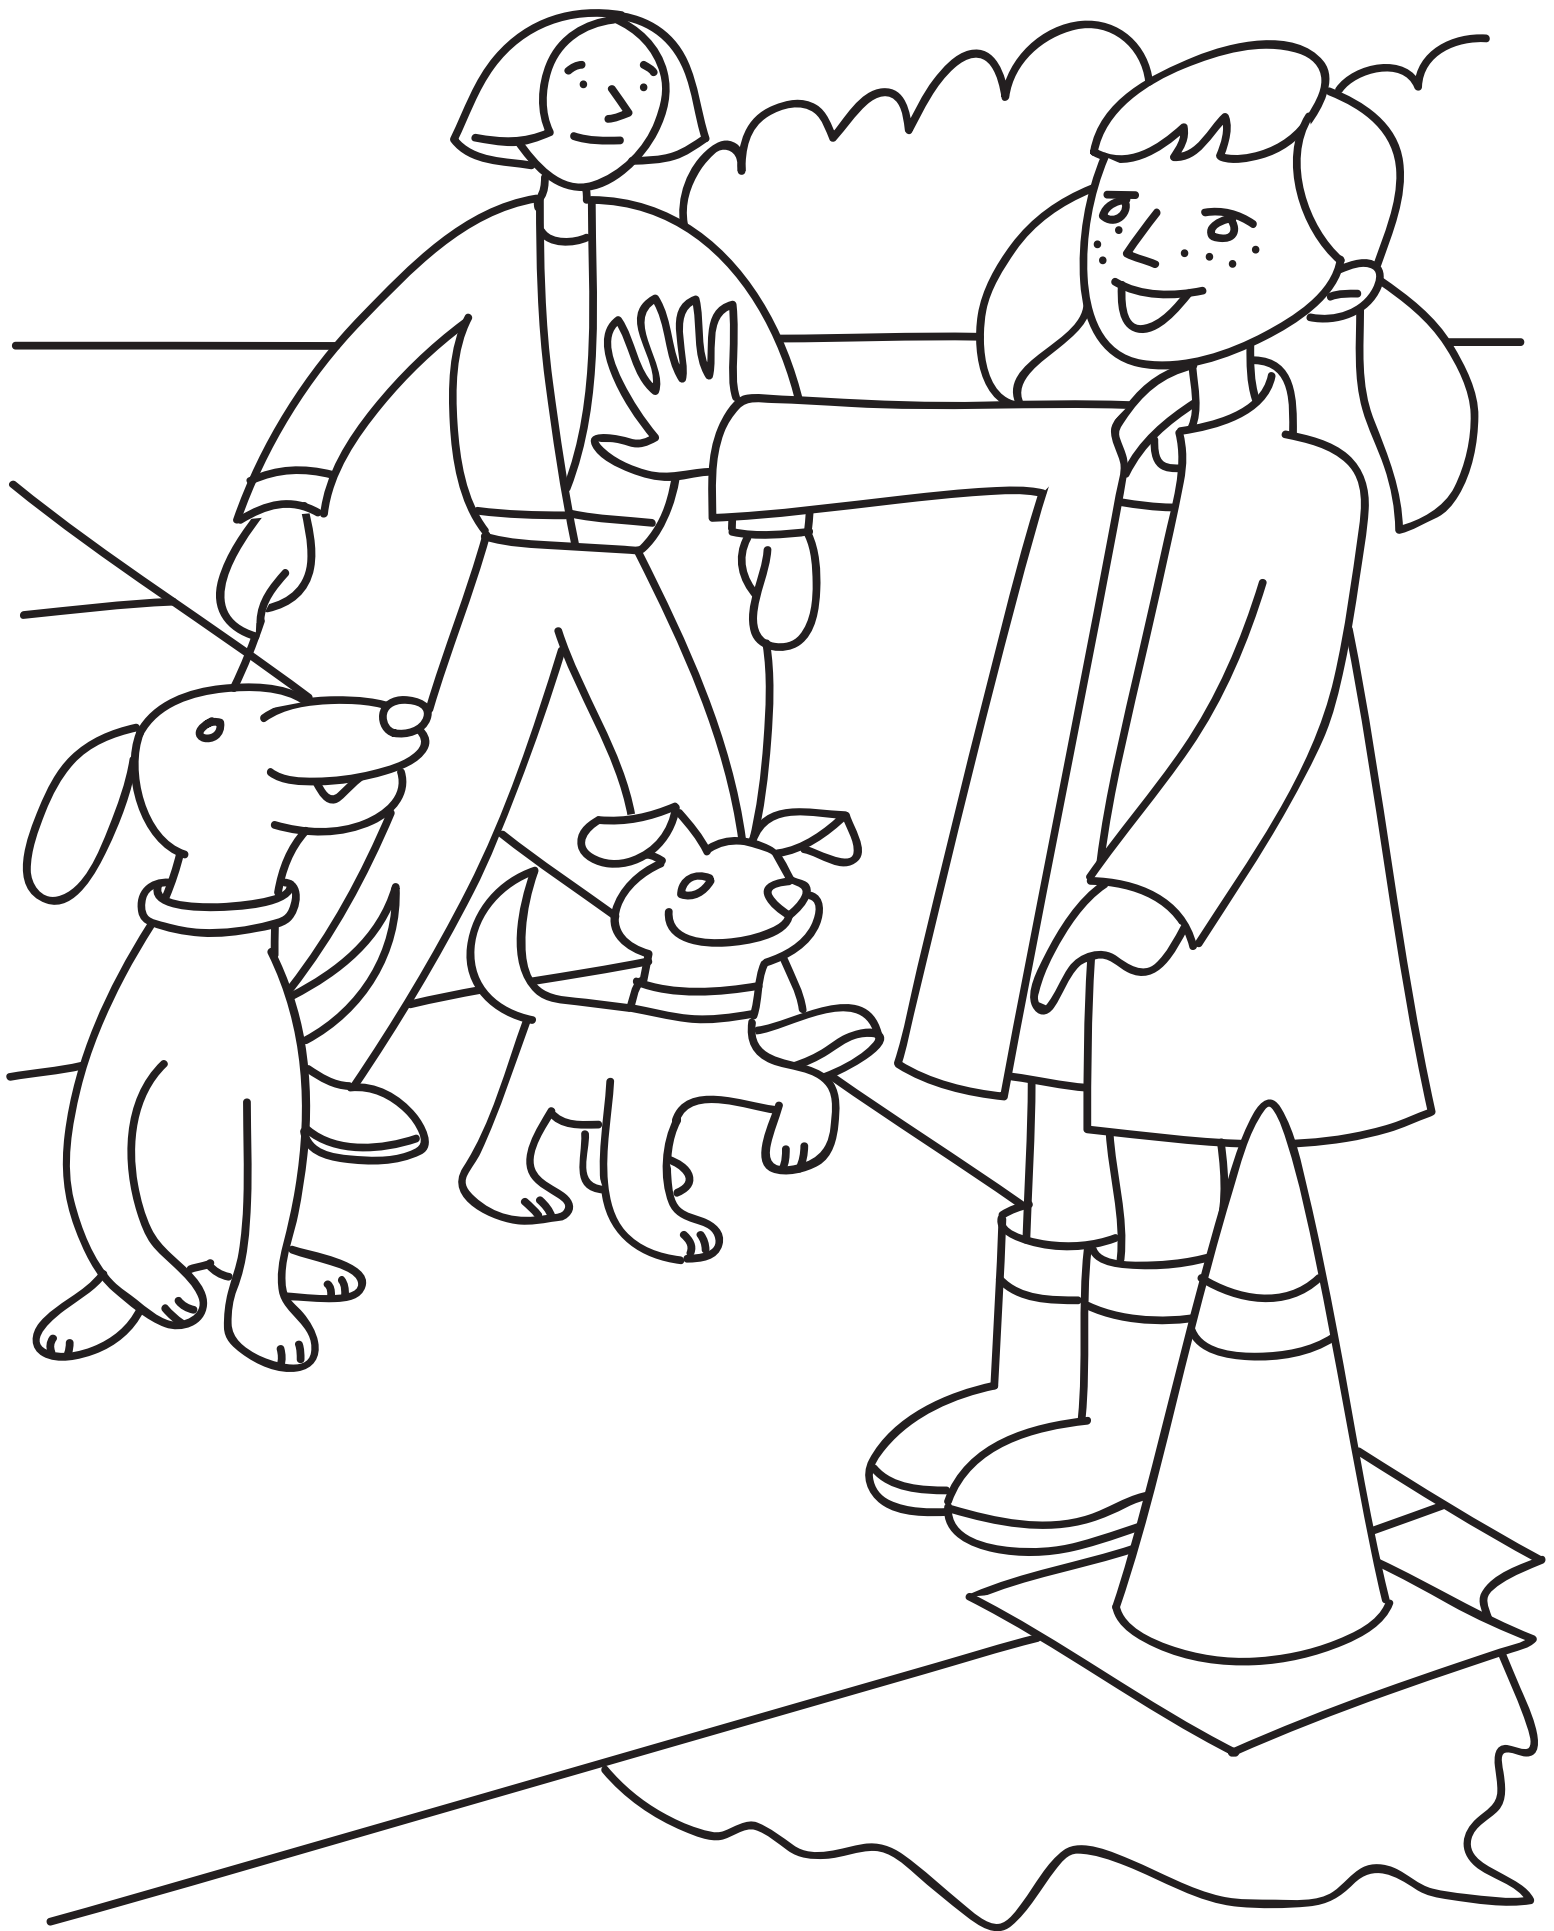

Molly feels proud to help Mr. Cadman fix the broken sidewalk.

"Wow!" Mr. Cadman said. "That is a big one.
Let's make sure no one trips on it and gets hurt!"

Molly helps Mr. Cadman put a barrier around the hole.
Next they paint the area around the hole bright yellow.

Just as they finish, Molly sees Mrs. Li walking down the sidewalk with her two dogs. "Be careful!" Molly says

Mr. Cadman is so happy with Molly's help that he gives her a yellow safety vest, just like his.

Now Molly can play street supervisor at home!